Open the Messages app on your Mac and you'll see a synced history of text messages from your iPhone, too.. Sometimes, you may close it mistakenly and u become not available to receive any messages.. 1) Google Voice App : To help keep Google Voice open on the desktop, Google voice app is created.

One thing that keep me irritated about using Google Voice is that you have to keep Google Voice webpage open to receive messages.. This is pretty awesome service that Google offered but it's sad that only available in U.. S people to call and sms their favorite contacts It's also giving powerful competition to Skype with the features like forwarding call from your google voice number to real numbers all over the world.. You can reply from your Mac or send entirely new messages from the Messages app.

There are not many software out there, but I find some cool softwares after a extensive research that help you to keep notified about any activity with Google Voice account on your desktop.. So, for now, without wasting any time further, have a look on SaveDelete's compilation of 5 great Google Voice desktop apps to keep you notified about every activity.. Jan 22, 2014 Is there an app that makes it possible to write and send a text via the iPhone, from a computer? Have seen a few that seems to have the option to write it and send it to the iPhone, but then you have to send it on the phone anyway.. If you're not willing to pay then simply grab free Google play codes & redeem them to buy premium apps for free.. Opening Google Voice webpage might be inconvenient for many out there like me So, I started to search Google Voice Desktop notification apps to keep me stay connected with Google Voice account.. Those text messages will be synced to your iPhone, too Wherever your phone is, know exactly how much battery life it has left from your Web App or tablet app.. S Hope to see the service in other parts of the world However, every good thing has a flip side too. e828bfe731 De Ligamentos Rupturas
